The 3-year Somali Nexus Skills and Jobs is implemented by a consortium, led by Iftiin Foundation and in partnership with Puntland Development & Research Center (PDRC), Success Institute and City University. It is a three-year programme, and a second phase of a previous pilot Nexus Skills and Jobs project supported by the Embassy of the Kingdom of the Netherlands. The goal of this cross-regional program is to create realistic, sustainable livelihood opportunities for the countless unemployed youth (15-24 and 24-35 years old) living in Somalia. The Consortium builds on this and their already proved experiences in implementing and managing projects.

The Consortium will enable scale-up and synergies to consolidate its members' partnerships and activities through knowledge sharing and technical support for maximum coverage and impact. The Consortium will also manage and develop its own knowledge resources to source information on unemployment, and homegrown solutions, while providing capacity development to its members and partners.

The programme's main objective supports local organizations to develop context-sensitive solutions to address youth unemployment and the mismatch between labour market demand and supply. It aims at facilitating the transition of youth from education to the attainment of gainful employment with the expected impact being vulnerable youth to be economically integrated in their communities through employment and entrepreneurship.

The programme focuses on: i) Economic Integration of Youth Through Skills Building ii) Supporting Young Local Entrepreneurs to be Economically Integrated, iii) Strengthening the Mental Health Workforce and Infrastructure, iv) Enabling Policy and Institutional Environment to Facilitate Youth Economic Integration and Inclusion.
